Rockefeller Says Capable Help Wanted

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Governor-elect Winthrop Rockefeller told 22 East Arkansas legislators Wednesday night that he recognized the importance of patronage but that "the advent of my administration is not going to be like a bombshell in the rotunda."

Rockefeller said he would "extend my arms" to competent, capable and conscientious career state employees, but that there would be changes.

Rep. Bill Thompson of Poinsett County praised Rockefeller for announcing that he would appoint Lawrence Blackwell of Pine Bluff to the state Highway Commission and would retain Welfare Commissioner A. J. (Red) Moss and Education Commissioner A. W. Ford.

"I must admit I'm getting a little playback from Republicans wanting to know when I'm going to start appointing Republicans," Rockefeller laughed.

The governor-elect discussed a wide range of subjects in another of his series of face-to-face meetings with members of the next General Assembly.

He repeated his position that he would do all he could to achieve university status for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro, but that "if it's going to be a university name it must be a university in fact."

"I think Arkansas State College is the logical next university down the trail in Arkansas and I will do everything I can to hasten that day," Rockefeller said.

He also said that people more and more were talking about and asking about Arkansas. He said that since the general election last month four industries, including one employing 150 persons and another more than 1,000, had contacted the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce about locating plants in Little Rock.

Rockefeller said he was not taking credit for the interest, but said it pointed up to the changing image of the state.

"I have said more kind things about Orval Faubus outside the state of Arkansas than in," Rockefeller said. "I have pointed out he is an extremely competent man, although I disagree with him in certain political philosophies."

Rockefeller also asked the legislators for their opinions on changing the inauguration from the Capitol to Robinson Auditorium in downtown Little Rock. He noted that the remodeled gallery in the House chamber had space for only about 125 persons while the stage in Robinson Auditorium could easily seat all the legislators while the auditorium could accommodate 3,000 spectators.

Local Soldier Promoted

Fort Knox, Ky., Dec 13 — Major J. C. Rothwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rothwell, Rt. 2, Hope, Arkansas, receives the insignia for his present rank in promotion ceremonies conducted at the US Army Medical Research Laboratory here on November 30, 1966.

Major Rothwell is presently serving as Operations and Training Officer at the Medical Research Laboratory. Colonel Howard H. Craig, Acting CO and Director, USAMRL, pinned the new insignia on the Major.

Rothwell is a 1950 graduate of Hope High School and attended Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas, receiving a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1958.

Governors Say Tax to Hurt State

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — A majority of the nation's governors willing to state an opinion believe that a tax increase to finance the Vietnam war would eliminate any state - sharing of federal revenues.

Gov. William M. Guy, North Dakota Democrat who heads the National Governors' Conference opening here today, conceded in an interview he does not expect the tax-sharing plan to go into effect until the Vietnam war, with its drain on the national budget, is ended.

This governors' interim conference, at a summer resort hotel, was called primarily on the insistence of Michigan Gov. George W. Romney. He said he had not been able to report fully at last July's governors' meeting in Los Angeles on his special committee's investigation of possible sharing of federal tax collections with states and local communities.

As a potential candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, Romney is suspected in some quarters of having a political gimmick going for him in this tax-sharing business.

An Associated Press canvass of the governors in advance of this meeting indicated many of those willing to respond felt that an increase in taxes to pay for the Vietnam war was almost inevitable.

Nearly Everyone Is Lonesome for Some Christmas in Past

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody really loves Christmas.

Some may say they don't like Christmas for this reason, or they don't like it for that reason. But what their complaints come down to, if put under a long look, is this: They are afraid to put their heart into this Christmas because they are lonesome for some Christmas before.

This can be understood. The human heart must look ahead to do its duty; but the human heart must look behind also to know that it has been faithful to its highway.

"Tell me how Christmas was in the old days," a sensitive child may ask of his elders today.

Well, child, so glad you asked. Go fetch a branch from the hearth-careful, don't burn yourself, son-and help Grandpa light his old cornucopia pipe, and he'll be happy to tell you how Christmas was in the old days.

He can close his eyes, and take a puff, and remember when—

Most of the ornaments on the Christmas tree were handmade. Any decoration that wasn't homemade was fervently believed, as was any glass eye in the neighborhood, to come from Czechoslovakia. So was the cut glass bowl on the golden oak sideboard.

Anything from Czechoslovakia was fragile and reflected light and was prized because it represented an exotic distinction. It stood for a kind of class.

The Christmas tree, as often as not, was selected after a venturesome trip in the family car — interrupted by three flat tires — to the countryside, and taken home in triumph.

Those who didn't have an automobile would lug it to the nearest trolley line and bring it home by streetcar. The motor-man laughed, and the conductor charged no fare for the tree. As a matter of fact, he wouldn't collect a fare for any member of the family who was smaller in height than the tree.

Everybody liked the tree all around except mother.

"It has to be put this way," she said critically, turning its least limbs of wealth to the wall. Everybody agreed that she had the perfect eye to show its splendor to the best advantage.

Everybody went into the kitchen and popped popcorn except Papa. Everybody but Papa got out needles and thread and wove strands of white popcorn and red cranberries around and around and around the green lifted arms of the tree.

Then Papa perched perilously on a chair and fixed to the peak of the tree a five-pointed star made from the tinfoil of cigarette packages.

There were no electric lights. Candles in tin holders were clipped to the outer boughs of the tree, and carefully lit, and there blazed a yuletide glory—a lighted tree that was the bonfire of the family heart.

Then the sleepy children hung up their stockings with care, and on leaden feet trudged to bed, overcome with a drowsy excitement.

During the night Santa Claus came down the chimney.

When the children pawed themselves awake and ran shivering downstairs in their long winter underwear they found in each stocking a golden fresh orange—the only one they knew all year long except if they were ill—and nuts and striped white and red and green candy.

And piled in a small heap under the tree were the toys and presents from Santa Claus for the family to play with and to wear and to share. The room erupted in tumult.

"Is this for me? See what I got? Is this for both of us? Please, can I try it first? Now it's my turn. Well, all right, me next."

And Papa came down and lit the fire.

O Santa Claus, thank you, thank you!

That was Christmas then.

Mrs. Kennedy Will Sue to Block Book

By REILMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy says she is prepared to relive her grief and shock after the assassination of her husband in order to legally block publication of a book about the tragedy.

The outlook for her is horrible, she said.

The book, which the Kennedy family had authorized, is "Death of a President," by William Manchester. It describes the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963, and the events in the days immediately afterward.

Mrs. Kennedy calls it "tasteless and distorted."

"As horrible as a trial will be," she says, "it now seems clear that my only redress is to ask the courts to enforce my rights."

Her attorneys said they are preparing papers seeking a temporary injunction to stop the book's publication and would file them in two or three days. Summons already have been served on Harper & Row, book publisher, and Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look magazine.

The magazine, which reportedly paid Manchester $650,000 for the serial rights to his book, scheduled publication of the first article for Jan. 10. Harper & Row plans to bring out the book next April.

The impending lawsuit, and a mention of "inaccurate and unfair references to other individuals" in a statement by Mrs. Kennedy about Manchester's book, may throw some light on long-standing reports of friction between the Kennedys and President Johnson. It assertedly began on the plane that brought Kennedy's body from Dallas to Washington after the assassination.

A friend of the Kennedy family said Manchester's book depicts Mrs. Kennedy as having been "upset because LBJ kept the plane on the ground too long in Dallas, waiting to be sworn in as president."

Another version of this incident is that Mrs. Kennedy and Kenneth O'Donnell, special assistant to the assassinated President, boarded the plane and ordered the pilot to take off at once. Johnson reportedly countermanded the order.

Sources close to the Kennedy family said Manchester's book contains "other things that involve LBJ which are distorted and unfair."

Last Nov. 22 — the third anniversary of the assassination — Malcolm M. Kilduff, press aide in charge of the presidential changeover at Dallas, said in an interview:

"I think that there are things that happened, especially on the plane coming back, that could be embarrassing to both the Kennedys and the Johnsons." He declined to go into details.

Kilduff added that in the emotional intensity of the moment "some of the old 1960 wounds were reopened, rehearsed, thought about." This apparently referred to the bitter struggle between Kennedy and Johnson for the Democratic nomination for president that Kennedy won.

Nevertheless, Kilduff said, "Johnson showed concern for Mrs. Kennedy and members of the Kennedy family during the flight from Dallas to Washington."

To support Mrs. Kennedy's contention that Manchester's book violated the terms of the agreement under which it was written, this and other episodes may be aired.

Constitutional Guarantees Out

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Constitutional guarantees were suspended in Venezuela Tuesday night for the first time since 1962 as part of a government crackdown on Communist terrorism.

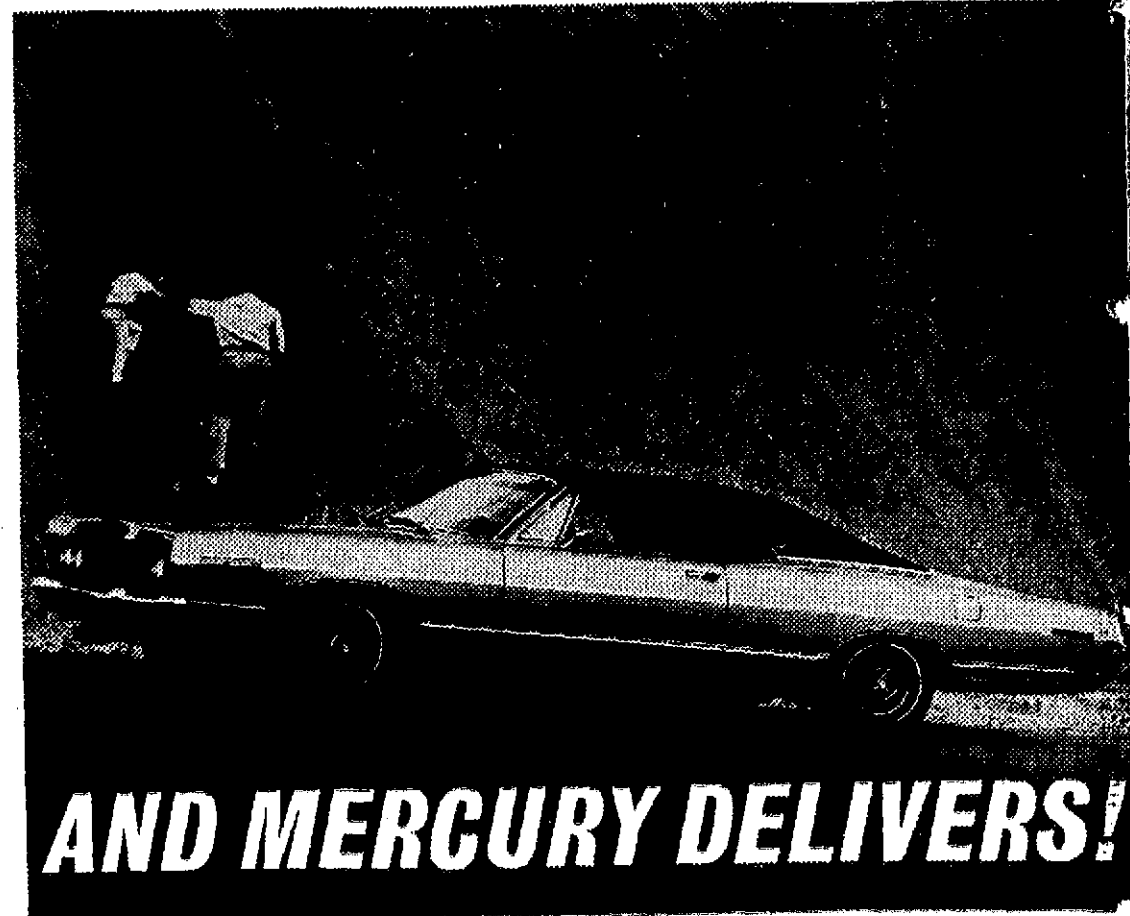

The suspension was announced by President Raul Leon in a broadcast shortly after the machine-gun slaying of a lawyer member of a court that tries guerrillas, and the attempted assassination of the army chief of staff.

The suspension gives police authority to arrest suspects without warrants, hold them without bail and raid hideouts of suspects without judicial permission.

Comparison of Players Impossible

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Is Lew Alcindor, the fabulous 7-foot-1 1/2 inch sophomore who has played only three varsity games for the top-ranked UCLA Bruins, a better college basketball player than Bill Bradley, the Princeton All-America who got all the raves only two years ago?

"A comparison can't be made," Vic Bubas, coach of the Duke Blue Devils, said today. "You are talking about two different worlds. Alcindor plays like Wilt Chamberlain or Bill Russell of the pros."

Bubas is well qualified to speak on the merits of Alcindor and Bradley. His Duke team played against Princeton and Bradley and only last week his Blue Devils absorbed two trouncings from UCLA and Alcindor.

Bradley, 6-5 son of a Crystal City, Mo., banker, passed up tempting offers from the New York Knicks to turn pro to accept an Oxford Rhodes Scholarship in England after his graduation in 1965.

He was called by many Mr. Basketball and finished his Princeton career with a record 58 points against Wichita in the consolation game for third place in the 1965 NCAA championship tournament.

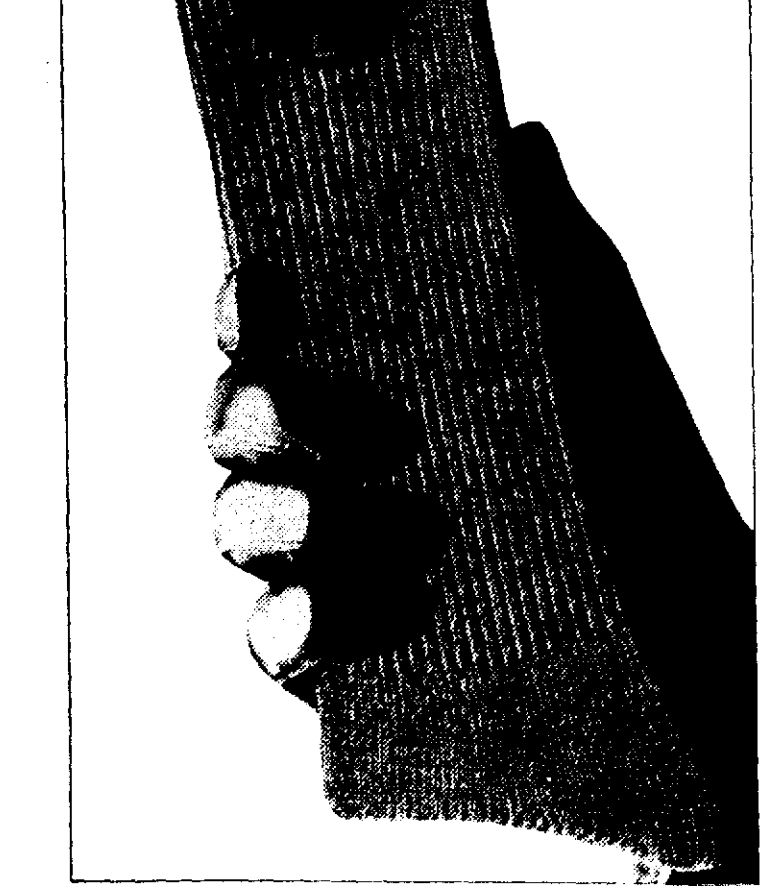

"Bradley was a tremendous playmaker, fine shooter and rebounded exceptionally well for his size," Bubas said. "Alcindor is the type of player who can destroy you."

"Alcindor blocks so many shots on you and then gets the rebounds that when you shoot and miss, you'd better have two players back and a third almost there because Alcindor with a flick gets the ball three-quarters down court to set up their fast break."

Ninth-ranked Houston was the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action Wednesday night. The Cougars, led by Elvin Hayes' 43 points, broke loose for 61 points in the second half to whip Centenary 97-66 in the first game of the Bluebonnet doubleheader classic at Houston.

Charley Parks sank two free throws in the last 48 seconds to give Idaho State an 87-85 victory over Rice in the second game.

North Dakota scored a major upset in beating Chicago Loyola 93-92 at Grand Forks, N.D., behind the sparkling 35-point performance of Phil Jackson.

Wasted Shot Kills Ducks and Geese

WASHINGTON (AP) — So many ducks and geese are dying from accidental lead poisoning — wasted shot swallowed in eating — that a $100,000 study is under way to try to reduce the toll.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall announced Wednesday night that the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers' Institute is putting up $100,000 for a cooperative research effort. Major Canadian and U.S. producers of sporting firearms are supplying the money.

The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and the Illinois Institute of Technology-Research are working with the industry trade association.

Many waterfowl feed by gleaning seeds and other food from the bottom of lakes, ponds and marshes, it was explained. Birds feeding in a hunted area may pick up waste lead shot that can lodge in the gizzard be ground into finer particles, and exposed to digestive fluids.

The result is residues which have a toxic effect on the liver, kidneys and possibly the gizzard.

The research objective is to identify a substitute or modification for lead shot.

A bureau spokesman said studies have shown possibly 3 to 4 per cent of the Mallard population dies each year from accidental lead poisoning.

This could mean as many as a million ducks could be poisoned some years if the ratio holds for all species.

Tests of substitute or modified shot will be conducted at the bureau's Patuxent (Md.) Wildlife Research Center.

Baseball's Trade Deadline Is Midnight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The interleague baseball trade deadline in the major leagues is at midnight tonight and the deals that sent Roger Maris to St. Louis from the New York Yankees and Maury Wills to Pittsburgh from the Los Angeles Dodgers look to be the biggest that will be made unless there is a last-day flurry of activity.

Wednesday, California traded veteran first baseman Norm Siebern to San Francisco for outfielder Len Gabrielson, and St. Louis sent Walter Williams, who led the Pacific Coast League in batting last season, to the Chicago White Sox along with relief pitcher Don Dennis.

In return, the Cards got catcher John Romano and minor league pitcher Lee White.

The Angels got youth for age in giving up the 33-year-old Siebern for Gabrielson, 26. But Siebern hit .247 last season and drove in 41 runs while Gabrielson hit just .216 and had 16 RBI.

Romano, the key player in the St. Louis deal, hit .231 for the White Sox in 1966 and had 15 homers.

The two deals brought to 14 the total made in the last three weeks.

Cincinnati Closing in on 3rd Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Don't look now but the Cincinnati Royals are closing in on third place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

The Royals picked up two games in two nights on third-place New York to move to within one-half game of the Knicks.

Cincinnati edged the Lakers 126-124 in Los Angeles Wednesday night while the Knicks were bowing to the Bullets 116-106 in Baltimore.

In the only other game played, the Chicago Bulls turned back the Detroit Pistons 93-87 in Evansville, Ind.

Tuesday night Cincinnati snapped a seven-game losing streak by beating San Francisco and New York absorbed a setback at the hands of Philadelphia.

The Royals own their modest two-game winning streak today as a result of Connie Dierking's basket with three seconds to play that broke a 124-124 tie with Los Angeles.

Roland Gets Rookie of Year Honor

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Roland, a 1965 All-America back from Missouri who received a big bonus to sign with the St. Louis Cardinals, has been named rookie of the year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 15 league cities.

Roland won in a close vote over Tommy Nobis of Atlanta, the two-time All-America from Texas.

The Bidwell brothers (Bill and Stormy) snared Roland away from the New York Jets of the American Football League in a bidding contest that cost the Cardinals at least $250,000.

Roland was honored for his defensive work last season at Missouri, moving to the offense when short yardage was needed. He had made a name for himself as a blocker and running back in his junior year.

Coach Charley Winner earmarked Roland for his offensive unit and moved him into the regular left halfback job over the incumbent Bill Triplett in the middle of the Cards' opening game with Philadelphia. In his first half-day of work he contributed 159 yards to the total offense and was picked as the Offensive Player of the Week in mid-September.

Roland is a man of all trades. In the Cards' first 13 games, he has accounted for a total of 1,566 yards with his running, throwing or catching. He had scored six touchdowns and has thrown one TD pass. He leads the league in punt returns.

Nobis, the fine middle line-backer from Texas who received a big bundle as a first round draft choice of the new Atlanta Falcons, was the only other rookie to get strong support. Nobis was All-America in both 1964 and 1965.

Nobis took over the middle line-backer job with the Falcons as soon as he was able to report to camp and improved with every start. Coach Norb Hecker has been boosting him all season for rookie honors and he had many backers.

Buckeyes Draw Most Grid Fans

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes finished with the largest home attendance among the 616 college football teams in 1966 for the ninth straight year, it was revealed today with the release of a survey by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The Buckeyes, despite a drop of 1,856 spectators from 1965, topped the list with an average of 81,400 spectators for six home games. Michigan State was second with an average of 71,125 followed by Michigan 68,933, Louisiana State 64,350 and Nebraska, 63,764.

Notre Dame, the national champion, was sixth. The Irish drew an average of 59,075 for five home games.

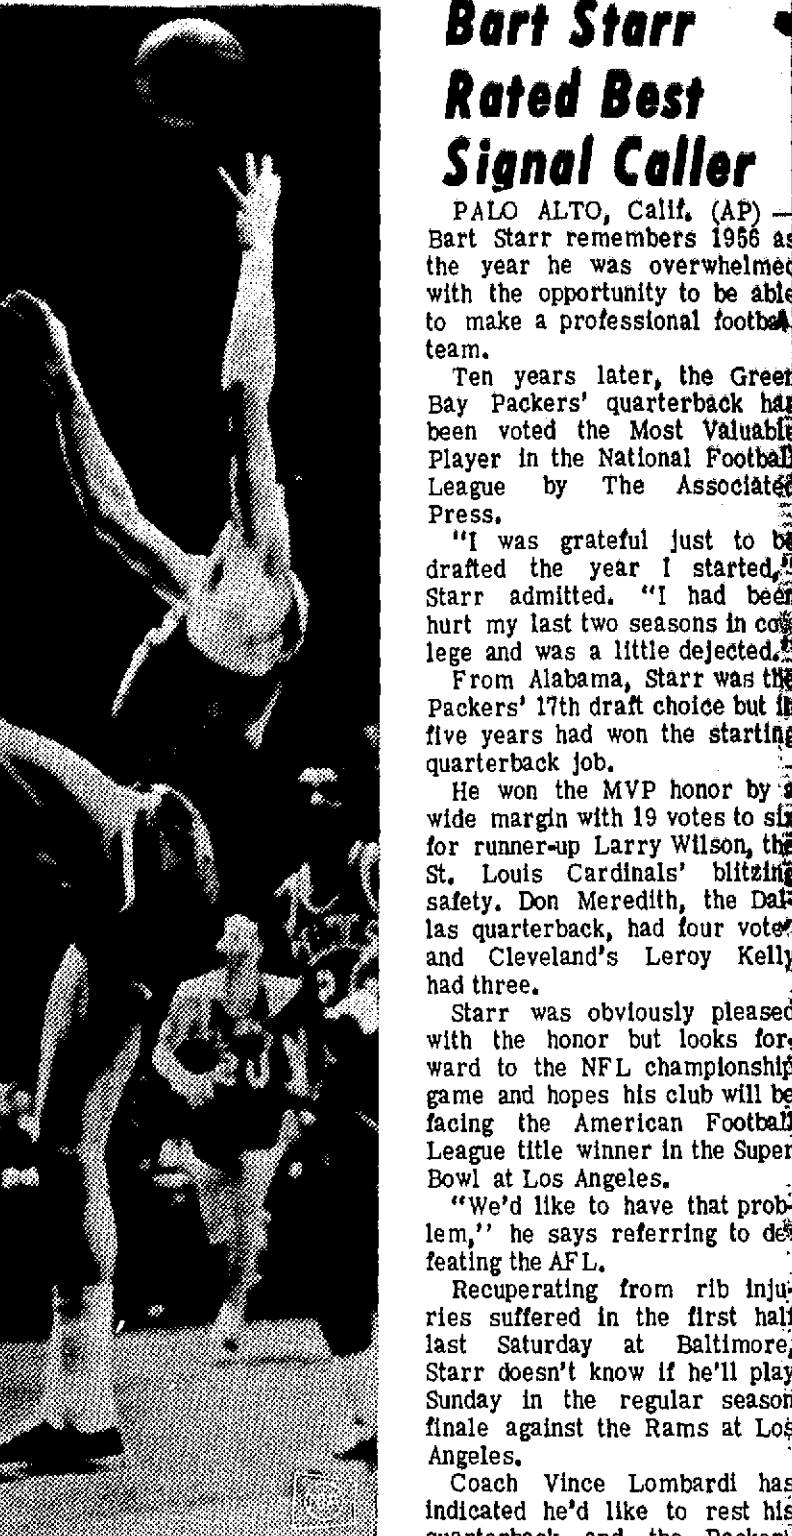

Seven teams showed increases of more than 10,000 a game. They were Tulane, up 17,452, Colorado 13,292, Alabama 13,219, North Carolina State 11,865, Rice 10,407, Nebraska 10,166 and Clemson 10,041.

He would knock out Torres?

"I'll be happy if it happens," replied Tiger, who never has made predictions on his fights. When prodded some more, Tiger said, "I think it could happen. But I'll be very happy to win and have a title again."

Mississippi Arrives for Bluebonnet

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Mississippi football team arrives today to keep a date with Texas in the eighth Bluebonnet Bowl Saturday.

The Rebels, making their 10th straight bowl appearance, get a one-day jump in Houston workouts on the Texas Longhorns, who won't put in appearance until Friday.

Rice University Stadium, site of the game, is expected to be filled at its 70,000 capacity Saturday and the weatherman predicts no rain and temperatures in the middle 60s.

The game will be nationally televised (ABC) starting at 1:15 p.m., CST, with the Houston area blacked out.

Mississippi is a touchdown favorite.

Plenty Happens When Gilbert Shoots Goal

NEW YORK (AP) — Every-time Rod Gilbert turns his right ankle, nothing happens.

Almost everytime he pulls back his hockey stick and shoots at an opposing goalie, plenty happens.

Gilbert scored twice Wednesday night and took the National Hockey League goal-scoring lead with 15 for the season as the first-place New York Rangers ripped sagging Detroit 4-1.

The goals gave Gilbert seven in the last four games — the hottest pace in the NHL. And he's been doing it on one good leg.

"The ankle is still sore," Gilbert admits. "It feels stronger but I have no lateral movement." That means that everytime Gilbert turns on the ice, it's a major navigational problem.

He has developed a slight case of bursitis in the joint as a result of a rap across the ankle by Detroit goalie Roger Crozier last month. He went eight games without a goal after the injury but has snapped the slump spectacularly in the last week.

New York maintained its slim one-point edge over Chicago and Toronto, both tied for second. The Black Hawks trimmed Montreal 2-1 and the Maple Leafs took Boston by the same score.

Ferrari Loses Race Director

MODENA, Italy (AP) — The Ferrari automobile firm said Eugenio Dragoni, director of its racing stable, resigned Tuesday.

Dragoni, 58, a Milan industrialist, had been with Ferrari for five years and was one of Enzo Ferrari's top collaborators.

Bart Starr Rated Best Signal Caller

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) —

Bart Starr remembers 1966 as the year he was overwhelmed with the opportunity to be able to make a professional football team.

Ten years later, the Green Bay Packers' quarterback has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by The Associated Press.

"I was grateful just to be drafted the year I started," Starr admitted. "I had been hurt my last two seasons in college and was a little dejected."

From Alabama, Starr was the Packers' 17th draft choice but in five years had won the starting quarterback job.

He won the MVP honor by a wide margin with 19 votes to six for runner-up Larry Wilson, the St. Louis Cardinals' blizzarding safety. Don Meredith, the Dallas quarterback, had four votes, and Cleveland's Leroy Kelly had three.

Starr was obviously pleased with the honor but looks forward to the NFL championship game and hopes his club will be facing the American Football League title winner in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles.

"We'd like to have that problem," he says referring to defeating the AFL.

Recuperating from rib injuries suffered in the first half last Saturday at Baltimore, Starr doesn't know if he'll play Sunday in the regular season finale against the Rams at Los Angeles.

Coach Vince Lombardi has indicated he'd like to rest his quarterback and the Packers already have won the Western Conference title.

"It takes awhile to get well, or to get better," Starr said. "But I'll be ready for the NFL championship."

Starr will be 33 on Jan. 9 and has enjoyed his best season of the 11 he's played with Green Bay. He's completed 62.2 per cent of his throws with a fantastic record of only three interceptions in 251 attempts.

the National Football League.

Sports Editor Bob Roessler wrote in today's editions of The Times-Picayune that Meecom had the franchise.

In New York, the NFL office would only say the "decision" will be announced as soon as reached.

It was learned that Rozelle was scheduled to poll 14 NFL club owners again today on the New Orleans ownership. Atlanta, given a franchise last year, goes not have a vote on the New Orleans ownership.

Students Told of Microwave Versatility

straight?

"It's really not too difficult," Johnston explained. "Special filters in our microwave towers and in our switching equipment keep each signal separate and clear, and headed for its proper destination."

Using other demonstration equipment, he showed how microwaves, which normally travel only in a straight line-of sight, may be bent and reflected.

"Telephone people make good use of these properties of reflection," he said. "The huge, passive aluminum-coated space balloons, Echo I and II, reflected microwave signals clear across the continent. In this way, the first long distance calls handled by satellite," he said.

In speaking of the future, Johnston noted that recent Bell System developments have made it possible to carry even heavier communications loads with microwaves. And, he added, research is going forward into a method of carrying telephone calls on LASER beams.

When this method is adopted for commercial use, thousands of communications messages may be beamed simultaneously to any part of the country.

Johnston addressed the schooling model radio relay towers, a tableful of other electronic equipment to show how telephone messages, television programs and other types of communications speed across the nation via microwave.

He explained how these very short waves of electrical energy provide a vital communications pathway across the nation through his new scientific program, "Highways of Communication."

He used a microwave beam, transmitted between the two towers, to carry the sounds many different kinds of signals — telegraph, radio, data, teletype, telephone and television. How does the telephone company keep all these messages

Haney Leads Scorers in the AIC

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Haney of Arkansas College continues to lead the AIC in scoring with a per game average of 26.4.

Haney, who led the league last year as a sophomore, has scored 238 points. Freshman Larry Duckworth of Henderson is second with a 25.5 average and leads the rebounders with a 12.2 mark.

Third in scoring is Harding's Rick Turner with a 20.3 average, fourth is Richard Pyland of Ozarks with a 19.9 mark and fifth is Robert Cornelius of Ouachita with 19.8. Cornelius also is the second leading rebounder with an 11.8 average.

8 Soccer Fans Hurt in Crash of Spectators

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Eight injured Liverpool soccer fans were in a hospital today after a panicky crush that felled scores of spectators watching their team get eliminated from the European Cup by Ajax of Amsterdam Wednesday night.

About 200 fans were slightly hurt and 31 were admitted to local hospitals with everything from cracked ribs to broken fingers after smoke bombs started the panic among the crowd of 54,000 at Liverpool's Anfield Road Stadium.

Peter Robinson, secretary of the Liverpool Club, said some of the panic was caused by perspiration "rising in clouds of steam" from the crowd. Some fans thought the place was on fire.

"It may sound fantastic but we have had those clouds of steam at Liverpool before on big occasions," Robinson said.

Lions Looking for Linemen Offensively

By WHITEY SAWYER

DETROIT (AP) — William Clay Ford, owner of the Detroit Lions, said Wednesday night the team will be looking for offensive linemen in the draft, but refused to give any hint as to whether Harry Gilmer will be kept as head coach.

The National Football League club owner spoke at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism society.

Gilmer has been under fire from coaches and players during a 4-9-1 season and Ford said he would carefully weigh all the factors before deciding whether to keep him for the final year of Gilmer's three-year contract.

Ford said he was "a little disgusted" at the fans who threw snowballs at Gilmer during Sunday's 28-16 loss to Minnesota.

However, he said he felt the frustration of a poor season caused the snowballs and "I think those that did it probably are a little ashamed of themselves."

Ford also commented that owning the Lions was an experience he "wouldn't give up or trade for anything in the world."

THE DOCTOR SAYS
Cough Causes Are Varied,
 Let a Doctor Find Them

 By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

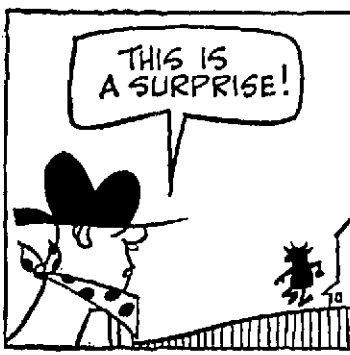

A cough is primarily an explosive attempt to clear the air passages of liquid, gaseous and solid irritants. As such, it is a protective device and in many cases should be encouraged rather than suppressed. Everybody coughs at times. Everyone who coughs isn't sick and everyone who has a chest disease doesn't cough.

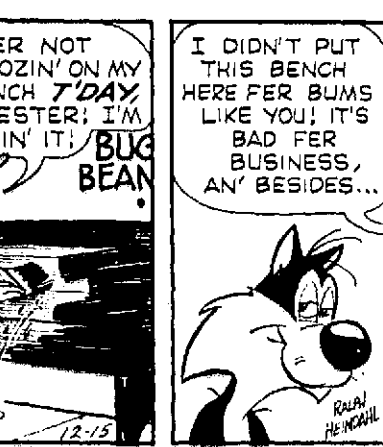

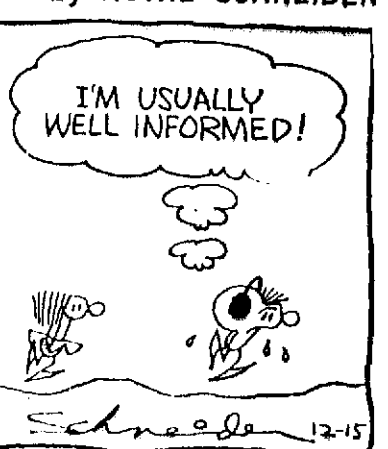

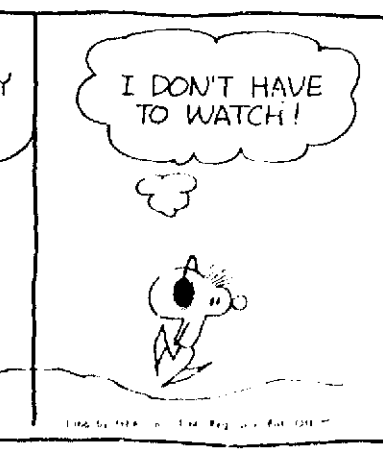

Coughs have many causes, some serious and some not so serious. In winter and spring the commonest causes are respiratory infections, such as colds, sinusitis with its post-nasal drip, laryngitis, bronchitis, pneumonia, measles, whooping cough and tuberculosis. In a city, dust, soot and other forms of air pollution are common causes.

In the allergic the cause may be pollens or animal dandruff. A cough may be the result of heavy smoking, exposure to a blast of hot, dry or very cold air, irregular heart beats, leaky heart valves, pressure on the windpipe by a goiter or a cancer, irritation of the pleura, or it may be a nervous habit.

When a respiratory infection is present the tiny hair-like cilia that line the mucous membrane of the air passages keep the inflammatory fluids gently flowing toward the upper windpipe and throat so that the sputum can be coughed up or swallowed. For this type of cough, drugs, such as ammonium chloride and potassium iodide that loosen or liquefy the secretions and make them easier to raise, are given but for a dry, hacking cough, cough-suppressing

Poking About London

LONDON A LA MODE. Drawings and Captions by Paul Hogarth. Text by Malcolm Muggeridge. Hill and Wang. $6.95. This is a salad treatment of contemporary London, primarily a sketch book with brief notes, in which Paul Hogarth strolls about from one scene to another and takes quick impressions of what he sees.

The sketches are divided into sections - Morning, Noon, Evening and Night - enabling the artist to probe into some of the lesser-known aspects of the city.

This Hogarth, descendant of the famous William, who shocked a lot of Londoners in the 18th Century with such items as "The Rake's Progress," does not lash out as vividly as his ancestor, but he does jibe strongly at the stereotyped conformism of the present day - as among commuters.

He also allows himself some patiently amused glances at the fastidiousness of the Mods and the sloppy pursuit of a mock gaiety through sex and gambling.

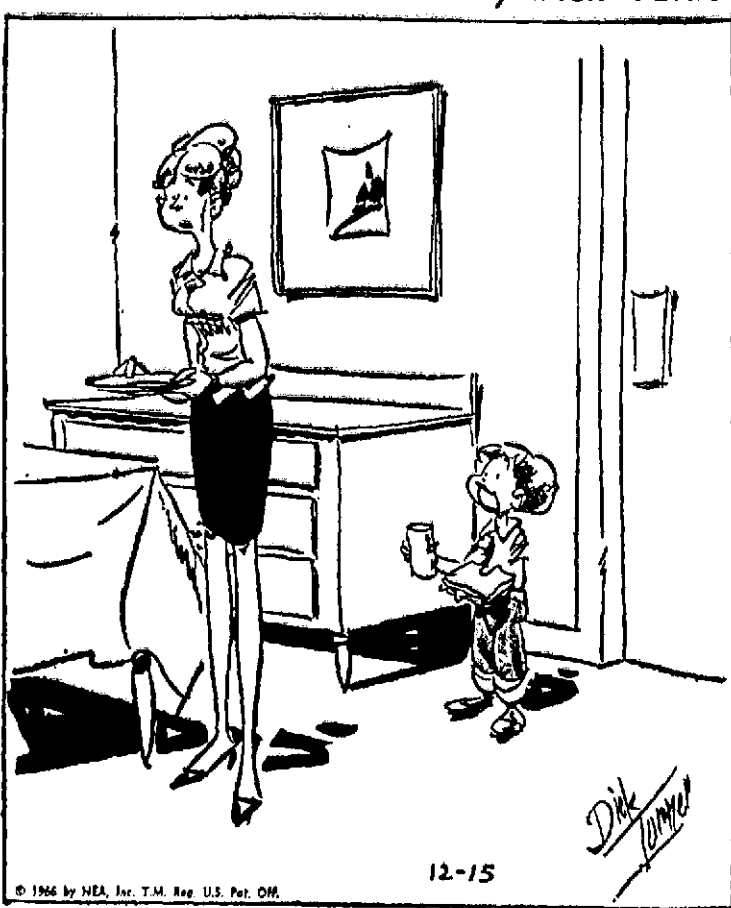

As a sort of counterpoint to Hogarth, there is a brief, unrelated text, or essay, by Muggeridge, who seasons his comment with a touch of nostalgia. Altogether, it is a pleasant diversion.

THE BORN LOSER

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Maginot Line, built on the eastern border of France after World War I, was once thought to be the strongest military defense system in Europe. Running from Switzerland to Belgium, the complex consisted of bunkers and superfortresses equipped with quarters for troops and storage for supplies and ammunition, says The World Almanac. The forts, some of which were connected by railway tunnels, had heavy artillery, machine guns and anti-aircraft guns, all protected by tank traps and barbed wire.

WIN AT BRIDGE

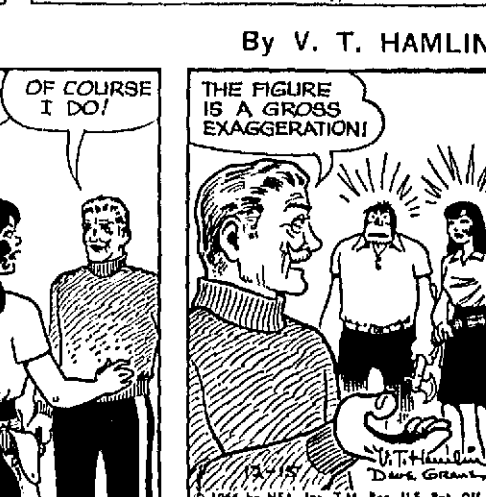

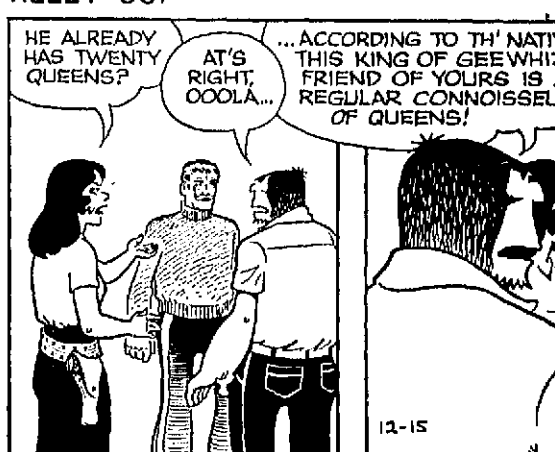

By Oswald & James Jacoby

If you have no better way to play a hand than to rely on hunches, go ahead and follow your hunches. But you can improve your hunches a great deal by looking for a good play.

North's slam bang bidding to six clubs was in the nature of a gamble but the sort of gamble we recommend. It was possible for South to have two quick losers in spades or diamonds, but even then North was willing to gamble that the wrong suit would be opened and the slam could be made.

South won the heart lead in dummy and drew a couple of rounds of trumps. He saw that he would make his contract if he could find East with either the ace of diamonds or the king of spades. He stopped awhile, communed with whatever power would give him a hunch and led a spade from dummy for the finesse. The finesse lost and there was no way left to make his contract. If South hadn't been so busy trying to guess he might have seen that he didn't have to guess at all. After drawing the East-West trumps South should run off his remaining hearts and discard a diamond from dummy. Then he could enter dummy with a third trump and lead toward his king of diamonds. Since East held the ace South's king of diamonds would set up and he would have a parking place for one of dummy's spades. Suppose that South's hunch had been right and that East held the spade king and West the diamond ace. South would still make the hand because he would only lose one diamond trick and would still be able to try the spade finesse.

Q-The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠
Pass 3 ♠ Pass 3 N.T.
Pass 5 ♠ Pass
You, South, hold:
AK87 ♥A2 ♠543 K986
What do you do now?
A-Pass. You have two aces and two kings but your three little diamonds don't look good and your trumps are weak. On the other hand a six-club bid would not be an outrageous gamble.

something for "Harry the Hacker"

Lots of us are known as, "Harry the Hacker," because of what we do to a Christmas Turkey.

The secret to classic carving is a very sharp, thin-bladed knife. Allow bird to sit in roasting pan 15 to 30 minutes. It will slice cleaner and the juices will be absorbed, too. Follow these simple directions:

1. Cut off leg by drawing knife deeply between leg and body through hip joint. Press leg away from body and remove.
 2. Before slicing breast, make a deep horizontal cut to bone in breast, just above the wing.
 3. Beginning about halfway up breast, slice downward with straight even strokes until slices fall free at cut.
 4. Cut off wing through shoulder joint. Cut off wing tip. When one side is clean, turn platter and carve other side.
- If your Harry's a Hacker, cut this out and put it in his Christmas Stocking. One final thing you can do for "Harry" . . . buy your turkey at A&P.
- Our Super-Right Turkeys are all Grade "A" birds. Harry will carve such beautiful slices you'll want to rechristen him, "Sam the Surgeon."

ALC Ignores Rockefeller's Budget

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council Wednesday ignored the recommendations of Governor-elect Winthrop Rockefeller and gave the state Education Department almost the budget it had asked for.

The council recommended a budget of $94,122,000 in 1967-68 and $104,662,000 in 1968-69 compared to Rockefeller's recommendations of $91,185,717 and $100,813,497. The department's current appropriation is $80,507,150 and it had asked for only about $200,000 more than the council recommended Wednesday.

In other action, the council: — Recommended $1.5 million a year for the free elementary textbook program, but did not authorize funds sought by Rockefeller for a high school textbook program.

— Recommended $2.4 million in 1967-68 and $3.2 million in 1968-69 for the Arkansas Children's Colony at Conway, a total of $1.5 million more than Rockefeller sought, but took no action on the budget for the proposed Arkadelphia unit of the colony.

— Recommended raising the salary of state Education Commissioner A. W. Ford from $14,000 to $16,000 after deciding against a suggestion that the figure be increased to $18,000, $2,000 less than Rockefeller proposed.

The council restored the Education Department's requests of $75 million in 1967-68 and $85 million the following year for minimum foundation aid, which provides money for teachers' salaries. Rockefeller proposed reducing the amounts.

The legislators went along with most of the department's requests, but cut the amount sought for operations at the state education building from $1,284,667 to $1,090,000.

The council's recommendation to the legislature included the proposed $500-a-year raises for teachers.

The council stepped up its budget-cutting work in an effort to finish by Friday so the members will not have to return Christmas week. Still on the agenda are most of the major general revenues budgets, however, including those of the University of Arkansas and the state-supported colleges, the Health Department and medical institutions.

Farther Than She Intended

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — When Sue Kaufman of Memphis went off to college, it was more than 2,000 miles farther from home than she originally intended.

Sue had asked her guidance counselor at her high school in Memphis to apply to the University of Arkansas. By accident, her application was sent to the University of Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. "Shorty" Barnes of Spring Hill were presented a check for $1,000 by Hope Lions Club yesterday at their home. The presentation was made by Lion Haskell Jones.

The Barnes' were critically injured in an auto accident August 22 and were in a hospital until December 10. Both will continue to need extensive care. Of the sum $600 was the remainder in a memorial fund for Mrs. James D. Anderson, and $400 from the Lions benevolent fund.

New Prison Head Named by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pink Booher, a longtime lawman who is sheriff of Jefferson County, has been appointed assistant prison superintendent in charge of Tucker Prison Farm, Gov. Orval Faubus announced Wednesday.

Booher, who has been sheriff for about five months after serving 29 years as a deputy, succeeds Guthrie R. Goodwin, who was dismissed by the state Penitentiary Board Saturday.

Prison Supt. O. E. Bishop said Booher would assume his duties Jan. 1.

Booher, 54, of Altheimer, said he applied for the job. He said he would get to remain in Jefferson County and that he had always been interested in Tucker, although he never was associated with the state prison system.

The veteran lawman apparently has the blessing of the Republican Party. E. E. (Ed) Dorris of Pine Bluff, who was active in the Democrats for Rockefeller campaign this fall, said a county Republican screening committee "cleared" Booher after considerations last Thursday when the group understood that Goodwin would be dismissed.

Dorris said the selection of Booher did not alter the Republicans' call for a professional penologist in the state prison system.

Booher said he understood that his appointment was for an indefinite period and would not be affected by Governor-elect Winthrop Rockefeller's assumption of office.

Booher was appointed Jefferson County sheriff to fill the unexpired term of Harold Norton, who resigned. He is a native of Perry County.

Goodwin was named head of Tucker Sept. 3 after a State Police investigation and major shakeup of the prison.

The reasons for his dismissal have been unclear, but he charged Tuesday at a news conference that the was fired because of criticism that he was "babysitting" inmates, some alleged whippings of prisoners and a ride he gave Prosecutor Sam Boyce of Newport in a state car.

Booher said he understood that his appointment was for an indefinite period and would not be affected by Governor-elect Winthrop Rockefeller's assumption of office.

Yule Program Planned by School Bands

Five music organizations from Hope High School will participate in a Concert of Festive Music Sunday afternoon December 18 at 3:00 p.m.

Featured on the program will be the High School Concert Band, Junior High School Beginning Band, Junior High School Choir, Senior High School a capella Choir and the Hope High School Madrigal Singers.

Music on the program will mostly be of Christmas type music with the Concert band adding two numbers of concert style with excerpts from the opera "The Barber of Seville" and a new release this year "Bolero in Blue" based on the classical dance by a modern blues flavor.

The High School a capella choir will perform "Daughter Zion" by Handel and "Lo, How a Rose e'er Blooming" by Praetorius along with several other selections for Christmas.

The Madrigal Singers, a new organization at Hope High School, will perform three selections, one a madrigal the other two unusual Christmas tunes. The Junior High Choir will perform traditional Christmas music and will also do a modern selection "Balu-alow," written by Benjamin Brittan, a contemporary English composer.

The program will start at 3:00 o'clock and admission will be charged, 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Mobile Job Training Unit for Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Educational Facilities Laboratory of New York has approved in principle a grant to finance a study of the feasibility of mobile job training units in Arkansas.

Governor-elect Winthrop Rockefeller announced approval of the grant and said he and Dr. Harold Gores, director of the laboratory, would work out details of the study, which Rockefeller said could solve a serious problem in Arkansas.

"Job training is going to be a bugaboo," Rockefeller said in an interview. "We are virtually at the point where we have no labor market. We're at the bottom of the barrel."

Rockefeller, who becomes governor in January, has said frequently that the availability of manpower is a problem that Arkansas must face as it grows industrially.

He discussed mobile training units when he visited the educational facilities laboratory in October and announced at that time that he thought it would be a good idea for Arkansas.

"As far as I know, it has not been tried in this country on a wide scale," Rockefeller said.

Hanoi Again Target of U. S. Bombs

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. warplanes straddled Hanoi with bombs for the second straight day Wednesday, the U.S. Command announced, but intense ground fire and a missile-firing MIG shot three of the American raiders out of the skies.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the department had no evidence to confirm Communist reports that the American planes bombed nonmilitary targets and inflicted civilian casualties in Hanoi itself.

Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers returned to the same two targets they hit Tuesday to rain more explosives on a sprawling truck depot five miles south of Hanoi and a major railroad marshalling yard six miles northeast of the Communist capital. Pilots claimed heavy damage to both installations.

During the raids, more than a score of MIG21s and MIG17s were encountered and a MIG21, downed an Air Force F105 Thunderchief 50 miles southwest of Hanoi. The pilot was rescued.

Two Navy jets were brought down by ground fire, the U.S. Command reported, and both pilots were listed as missing.

With these losses, the total of American planes reported lost in the air war against the Communist North reached 446. The Thunderchief was the seventh U.S. plane reported downed by a MIG, while U.S. fliers have reported shooting down at least 26 of the Communist jets and possibly two more.

As the tempo of the air war increased, there was a spurt also in ground fighting in South Vietnam.

Vietnamese military headquarters reported four widely separated Viet Cong attacks in which defending government units were badly mauled. A headquarters spokesman acknowledged moderate to heavy casualties to the South Vietnamese forces in the four engagements.

Buried Alive But Escaped Unhurt

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — John Edwards fell asleep in a large trash bin and came within minutes of being buried alive by a bulldozer.

The bin, containing trash, boxes, garbage and the 47-year-old transient was dumped into a large truck. The contents were compressed under 45,000 pounds of pressure.

Four hours later, the truck dumped its load at the city dump. Workers heard groans and spotted Edwards' head protruding. A bulldozer was due 10 minutes later to bury the trash.

Edwards said, "I guess I deserved it. I had been drinking."

Hospital Grant for DeQueen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The office of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced Wednesday that Hill-Burton grants had been approved to help finance hospital construction in four Arkansas cities.

DeQueen received a $500,000 grant for a $1 million, 56-bed hospital; Siloam Springs Memorial Hospital received a $350,000 grant to construct a 22-bed addition to its 49-bed facility; DeWitt City Hospital and Nursing Home received $226,667 to help finance a 40-bed nursing home unit, and Fulton County Hospital at Salem got $99,429 for a 14-bed addition to its 22-bed facility.

Woman Killed on Icy Bridge

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — A car went out of control on an ice-covered bridge Wednesday, striking the bridge and killing Mrs. Erma Varner Prewitt, 43, of Swifton.

A passenger, Mrs. Kathryn Skyrme, 58, of Swifton, suffered cuts and bruises, according to Trooper Max Jones.

Teamsters Protest Decision to Jail Hoffa by Striking

By BILL HALLS
DETROIT (AP) — Rebellious rank-and-file Teamsters curtailed transport in this Midwest commerce hub today in a display of support for their leader, James R. Hoffa, and anger at the Supreme Court decision that may send him to jail.

But Hoffa hurriedly acted to cut short the 24-hour walkout of truck drivers. Teamsters officials said, by calling for a mass "back-to-work" rally at 10 a.m. EST in Detroit's Cobo Arena.

The Teamsters chief was scheduled to fly to Detroit from Chicago after Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh appealed by telephone and telegram for Hoffa to intercede.

Cavanagh had warned Hoffa, who was in Chicago on union business, that the proposed day-long refusal to work would cripple Detroit. Some 45,000 Teamsters work in and around the Motor City.

By daybreak, hundreds of Teamsters drivers failed to report for work in the Detroit area.

There were unconfirmed reports that other cities might be similarly struck, but truck traffic appeared normal today at major terminals in other states.

A group of 10 to 15 men at a Detroit terminal attacked Associated Press photographer Al Quinn and this reporter, smashing a camera and kicking dents in the side of Quinn's car in an attempt to confiscate a roll of film.

"This is really the Teamsters," one of the attackers said.

After a brief pummeling, in which Quinn was kicked several times, they let us go.

The Teamsters revolt erupted Wednesday night in what had been scheduled as a routine business meeting for Teamsters Local 299, Hoffa's home local.

A motion from the floor brought the 3,000 members at the meeting shouting and voting almost unanimously in favor of a 24-hour work stoppage, starting at midnight.

The Supreme Court ruling that angered the truckers upheld a jury tampering conviction and eight-year prison sentence given Hoffa in Chattanooga, Tenn., in connection with his trial in Nashville, Tenn., on conspiracy charges.

The walkout, while constituting an unauthorized work stoppage, apparently is compatible with Teamsters contracts, which usually forbid reprisals against wildcat strikes during the first 24 hours.

In Washington, a source close to Hoffa said the union leader wanted no part of the work stoppage because he was afraid it would hurt his case.

Hoffa discouraged suggestions from elsewhere in the country that more work stoppages be held, the source said.

Johnson Seeks Talks to End War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is seeking in Christmas truce proposals a new opening for talks with the Communists on ending the war in Vietnam.

Johnson made known through a White House comment Wednesday night that he was ready to discuss an extended cease-fire in Vietnam, including a freeze on troop reinforcements "if the other side is responsive."

When press secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked whether that meant the United States was ready to talk over with the other side in the war the specific issues of an extended cease-fire and a "stand fast" by both sides he replied, "Yes."

Behind this new White House move lies a double purpose strategy, reflecting some guarded speculation among top officials here in recent weeks that holiday truce maneuvers might possibly open up some interesting possibilities for peace talks of much broader significance.

One major purpose behind the President's willingness to have discussions on the length and conditions of a cease-fire, therefore, is to find out whether the Communist side is willing to exchange views directly or indirectly on any subject and whether it would be willing to go beyond the immediate issues into consideration of peacemaking.

The second apparent purpose of the President's strategy is to make certain that the United States does not show signs of lagging in developing peace possibilities, however slender, and that if current efforts to prolong the cease-fire fail, the Communists will have to take the blame before the world.

Opposition to an extended cease-fire was expressed Wednesday by Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., who recently returned from an inspection trip to South Vietnam. He said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, and South Vietnamese officials also oppose lengthening the holiday cease-fires.

"The enemy has the most to gain from any short or long truce," Young said in an interview. He said, "the toughest fighting yet" of the war in Vietnam will start soon in the rich Mekong Delta area.

Wednesday night's White House statement was prompted by a proposal by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that the presently planned brief holiday truces be extended to a single cease-fire lasting just short of two months.

The Communists and the United States and its allies already have set one 48-hour truce for the period of Dec. 24-26 and another 48-hour truce for Dec. 31-Jan. 2. The allies also have proposed, but the Communists have not yet accepted, a 96-hour suspension of combat for the Vietnamese new year, Tet, Feb. 8-12.

Toffee Ice Cream Pie and Sauce

TOFFEE ICE CREAM PIE AND SAUCE

Want to cut your holiday kitchen-time and yet turn out a perfect party dessert? Here's an ultra-fancy creation that's easy as pie. In fact, it is pie — a deliciously different "Toffee Ice Cream Pie and Sauce."

The delectable flavor comes from a surprise ingredient, English toffee candy bars. Chopped bits of chocolate-covered candy are layered in and on top of the pie, adding a sweet crunchiness to the ice cream. More toffee bits are stirred into the topping sauce for a rich, mellow flavor. Raves are guaranteed.

You'll find the candy bars very easy to work with — simply chop them with a sharp knife into little bits.

This is an easy-do, prepare-ahead dream of a recipe. Make the pie at your leisure and keep it in the freezer compartment ready for any occasion — avoid that frantic feeling of a last-minute rush. The toffee sauce also makes a fine sundae topping which can be kept indefinitely under refrigeration.

TOFFEE ICE CREAM AND SAUCE

17 to 18 vanilla or brown edge wafers
one half gallon vanilla ice cream
1 cup chopped English toffee bars one and one half cups sugar
one cup evaporated milk, undiluted one fourth cup butter or margarine one fourth cup light corn syrup
dash of salt

Line bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch pie pan with wafers. Spoon ice cream into wafer shell, sprinkling 1/2 cup of the chopped toffee between layers of ice cream. Store pie in freezer until serving time. Prepare toffee sundae sauce by combining sugar, milk, butter or margarine, syrup and salt. Bring to a boil over low heat; boil one minute. Remove from heat and stir in remaining chopped toffee and cool, stirring occasionally. Serve sauce over pie wedges. Yield: one 9-inch pie (6 to 8 servings) and 2 1/2 cups sauce.

Russia to Develop More Missiles

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources indicate that the Soviet Union apparently has decided to develop multiple nuclear warheads to bolster its growing arsenal of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Soviet aim, sources said, obviously would be to neutralize or outweigh any offensive advantage the United States would gain by installing the multiple warheads on its new Minuteman III and Poseidon ICBMs now under development.

High-level Pentagon officials generally were reluctant to comment on the reported Soviet program, first revealed Tuesday in a technical journal.

However, one source said: "We know they have missiles (ICBMs), and it's a standard technical option" to install the multiple warheads.

As envisioned by some sources, the new Soviet program apparently would consist of warheads — ranging up to one megaton in size — carried aboard a mother vehicle and dispersed after re-entry. A complicated control system would enable the warheads to be ejected at prescribed velocity and altitude after the ICBM's last stage had been spent.

The new development comes on the heels of a report by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that the Soviet Union was believed to be planning to deploy more long-range missiles than earlier indicated by U.S. intelligence estimates.

McNamara, speaking at the Texas White House last week, said that the United States still had a numerical advantage of more than 3 to 1 over the Russians in ICBMs. And this country, he said, would maintain its superiority over the Soviet Union for 18 more months even with its present supply of missiles.

Navy Building Submergence Rescue Vehicle

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — The Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., prime contractor for the Navy's Deep Submergence Rescue Vehicle, disclosed today a model of the craft's sphere inner hull.

The vehicle is a 49-foot submarine which will be able to descend as much as 3,500 feet to remove the crew from a disabled sub resting on the bottom, Lockheed said.

The rescue sub will take on 24 crewmen. An inner hull will be made of steel, built to withstand great pressure. Each of the spheres will be interconnected. Lockheed said delivery of an operational prototype is scheduled for mid-1968.

Chicago to Rebuild a Large Area

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago charted a 15-year, $6-billion plan to rebuild large areas of the city and to seek lasting solutions to its social and racial problems.

The long-range, comprehensive plan will carry the city through the year 2000 and includes the reshaping of virtually every area of its life and basic structure.

Hailed by Mayor Richard J. Daley as "a practical design for the city's future," it provides for better neighborhoods, more housing and schools, new parks and recreation facilities, more and faster transportation and a revitalized central core.

The plan was made up by the City Planning Commission.

Much of the cost, an estimated $400 million a year, will come from federal and state aid, Daley said. The program will double present expenditures for such improvements.

In the social sphere, the plan calls for measures to bring more white families back into the city, to open more job opportunities for all persons and to expand greatly the educational system at all levels.

It provides for open housing for all of Chicago's citizens and recommends that "fair housing" laws be adopted throughout the metropolitan area.

The plan envisions Chicago in 1980 as composed of more and younger families. It projects a rise in population to 3.7 million, including a nonwhite population of more than 1.5 million. But it maintains that general improvements in the city will attract more people, especially younger, middle-income families now gravitating toward the suburbs. In Chicago, the plan sets these policies to provide for a "diverse, harmonious population."

LONG DISTANCE REHEARSAL via telephone enabled singer and orchestra to run through an aria from "Pagliacci," despite an 875-mile separation. At the top is Metropolitan Opera tenor Brian Sullivan in Pullman, Wash., singing "Vesti La Giubba" into a headset, while hearing the accompaniment of the Riverside Symphony Orchestra of Riverside, Calif., via a speakerphone. Bottom picture shows conductor James K. Guthrie taking the orchestra through its paces, while Sullivan's voice was being relayed to them through Guthrie's headset and two portable loudspeakers.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!
This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.
Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

ALTOGETHER TOO STRICT

Dear Helen: The rule is "respect your parents," but I think parents should also respect their children.
My parents think all teenagers are bad—except me and the only reason I'm not is because they never allow me out of their sight, except when I'm at school. When I wonder why I can't have fun like the other kids, they say, "You go to school. Isn't that enough fun?" I guess they think school is only a playground. If I flare up, they accuse me of being cruel and unloving.
Some of the things I am not allowed to do are: Take in any school activity or club; go to parties, even with just girls; talk to friends on the telephone; talk to boys—ever! And if they ever caught me kissing a boy, they'd judge it a mortal sin. Naturally, I can't date. My father sets the rules.
Some people say your parents don't let you do things because of your immature actions. This is not true with me. I'm known as a quiet, somewhat shy girl who is tied to her Mama's apron strings. I'm also the school outcast, as kids soon tire of asking a girl who must always say, "My folks won't let me."

Now if I were 13 or 14 you might side with them, Helen, but I'll be 18 in four more months! How can I possibly make my parents understand? They won't even let me explain my point of view. —DEPRESSED

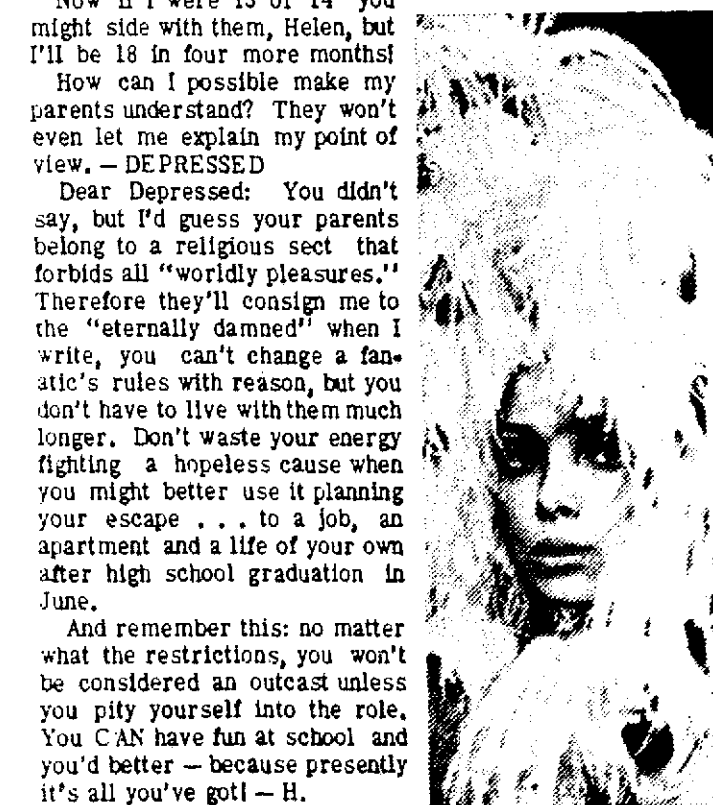

Dear Depressed: You didn't say, but I'd guess your parents belong to a religious sect that forbids all "worldly pleasures." Therefore they'll consign me to the "eternally damned" when I write, you can't change a fanatic's rules with reason, but you don't have to live with them much longer. Don't waste your energy fighting a hopeless cause when you might better use it planning your escape . . . to a job, an apartment and a life of your own after high school graduation in June.
And remember this: no matter what the restrictions, you won't be considered an outcast unless you pity yourself into the role. You CAN have fun at school and you'd better—because presently it's all you've got! —H.

Dear Helen: My best friend says he is going to college and get married as soon as he gets a job. This because his girl friend might not wait for him three years until he graduates. She is moving to California with her folks, about 2,000 miles away, where she will finish high school. He is on a scholarship, a real brain, and, until now, full of ambition. Now here's the problem. She is supposed to be engaged to him, yet my kid brother saw her at a game with another boy. They had their arms around each other and left, holding hands.

Should I tell my friend outright and lose a good friendship besides a few teeth? Should I tell his folks, who are very much against the marriage anyway? Should I tell the girl and ask her to explain? Or should I just keep my big mouth shut? —LOST FOR WORDS

Dear Lost: Don't tell anyone except as a last resort, but don't keep your big mouth shut! Use it to persuade your brainy friend that he should hang on to his scholarship until June, then find a summer job, get married, return to college and work his way through—with his wife's help. If this plan gets a veto from the bride-to-be, it may open his eyes and make a wiser man of him. If she agrees, it could mean either, 1. She is wiser than you think, or, 2. She's cooling off and wants to ease out of the engagement gracefully.
At any rate, the discussion will take time, and "time to think it over" has blasted many a bad decision. Let's hope it works this time. —H.

Class Rings Span Century of U. S. Heroes

By JEAN HELLER
WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — One was at San Juan Hill, another at Corregidor and another in Vietnam. One never left the Plain.
Today, they share a common home, a field of blue velvet behind glass at the United States Military Academy. They are class rings, and they span a century of American history; a century of American heroes. Many are so severely worn, with stones so badly chipped and cracked that the seal is no longer legible. Some are on public display at the school's museum. Others are in the school's library, to which the public is not admitted.

There was Dennis Mahan Michie, who enrolled at West Point in 1888 and almost immediately began trying to convince academy officials that the school needed a football team. He got his team, was its captain and—while he was still a cadet—was the team's first coach.
And then came the Spanish-American War. Michie landed as a first lieutenant with the 17th Infantry on the shores of Cuba and, on June 1, 1898, Michie and more than 8,000 other soldiers made the famous charge up San Juan Hill.
Michie never returned. But his class ring did, to a place of honor in the West Point Museum. And the academy's football field is named Michie Stadium in his memory.
General of the Army Douglas MacArthur's ring is there, too. It was with him when he inspired his outmanned, poorly equipped troops at Luzon. It fell back with him to Bataan and then to Corregidor.
And it went with him to Australia when he received orders from President Franklin D. Roosevelt to leave the Philip-ines as the Japanese pressed relentlessly to capture them. "I shall return," he vowed. And he did—in October, 1944.

Also there is the ring that belonged to Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, Class of 1906, the man history and MacArthur left in the Philippines to fight for the precious time the United States needed to prepare to strike back.
James P. Spruill got his ring and his commission from West Point in June, 1954. Eight years later, as a captain, he was in Vietnam.
From 1962 to 1964, he wrote a series of letters to his wife and children, letters which were cheerful and optimistic.
Spruill wrote that he had great confidence in the little people of the tiny, war-racked country, confidence that they could and would survive.
But he didn't.
"Chin up! See you soon," he wrote home early in 1964. And then he was dead. And in West Point's library display, Capt. Spruill's ring has as prominent a display as MacArthur's and Wainwright's and Michie's.
In all, there are about 160 rings in the two displays, plus one set of cufflinks from the Class of 1879, designed for use instead of a class ring that year.
Class rings were first worn at the academy in 1885, but as the display holds no representative from that class. There were no class rings in 1885, but the cadets resumed the practice the following year.
There are examples from nearly all the classes since the each with the unique design the class that wore it.
According to one former cadet, now an Army lieutenant colonel: "The rings cost at $75, but the heritage they represent and the pride with which they are worn is priceless."
Kent University is the nation's third largest producer of teachers, graduating 1,120 certified teachers in 1965.

Hot Coffee Drinks for Social Season

HOT DRINKS for warm hospitality.

GAYNOR MADDOX Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are three festive hot coffee drinks designed for quick warm-ups and good conversation on the coldest of days. On New Year's Day, serve up of sweet and sassy Coffee Grog with cinnamon sticks. For a more formal occasion, choose rich, dark, double Caffé de Cioccolata, brewed with whipped cream. Alcoholic but spirited Hot Coffee, the candy cane brewer of our trio, is ideal for the younger set. Any one of these hot coffee drinks is sure to "break the ice" for wintertime entertaining.

BRANDIED CAFFE DE CIOCOLATA

cup cocoa

3 cups hot, strong coffee
6 tablespoons brandy
Whipped cream
Grated orange peel

Dissolve cocoa in hot coffee. Pour in 6 cups or glasses. Add 1 tablespoon brandy to each cup. Top with a small spoonful of whipped cream sprinkled with orange peel.

HOT SPICED COFFEE

3 cups strong coffee
3 tablespoons sugar
8 whole cloves
6 whole allspice
2 pieces stick cinnamon,

2-inches long
Peppermint candy canes or sticks

Combine coffee, sugar and whole spices. Bring to boiling point. Remove from heat. Cover. Let stand 5 minutes.

Strain. Pour into small glasses. Use candy sticks as stirrers. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

COFFEE GROG

Base:
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
Few grains salt
1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice and cloves

Cream butter. Blend in sugar, salt and spices. Makes about 1/2-cup, enough for 12 6-ounce servings.

To make the drinks, put 2 teaspoons grog base in each 6-ounce mug. Add 3 tablespoons whipping cream, a 1-inch square each of lemon peel and orange peel. Stir to mix. Fill mugs with hot, strong coffee. Use cinnamon sticks for stirrers.
